STUKKO

The excellent high level finishing STUKKO is elegant, tactile and resistant. Used in modern furniture, as architectural solutions or hotel and stores internal finishing, gives its application a character of peculiar exclusivity.

All products have been suited to be applied by hand with the spatolato technique, firstly used by Romans and Greeks, allowed the manufacturing of unique and extremely innovative items.

As the manufacturing is made by hand every piece is unique and cannot be reproduced with exactly the same finishing and look. For this reason slight differences on the spatolato effect or the tone colour between different pieces have to be considered as a quality distinction and not a defect.
